

THE PRESS COMPLIMENTS

NEBRASKA.

Orleans Progress: Stand up for Nebraska and the exposition! The greatest city in the world at present.

Beatrice Express: The great exposition is going to be the biggest success of modern times.

North Platte Era: The exposition surpasses at present the expectations of visitors, and will indeed be a fine show when all the exhibits are complete.

Hardy Herald: Thirty states and territories are contributing to the Omaha exhibition, both material and people, which was given a magnificent send-off June 1.

Beaver City Kid: The Transmississippi Exposition is an educator. Collectors should go and see the stamp exhibit at the east corner of the Nebraska building on the upper floor.

Valparaiso Visitor, June 2: Our people should take every advantage to attend the exposition. It will be a great advertisement for our state. Every citizen should stand up for Nebraska.

Orleans Progress: All who attended the opening of the Transmississippi Exposition do not hesitate in pronouncing the exposition one of the finest in the history of our country.

Hastings Republican: The opening day at the exposition at Omaha was a great success. An immense crowd attended and the big show is insured to be a great success from every standpoint.

David City Banner: The Transmississippi Exposition is the greatest show that has ever taken place in the middle western states. Those who miss attending it will doubtless miss the event of a lifetime.

York Democrat: The Transmississippi Exposition is now open to the public. The exposition will bring no end of wealth to Nebraska. Senator Allen can be congratulated on his grand work for the exposition.

Brook Bulletin: The great Transmississippi Exposition is now open and Omaha will be the Mecca of all sightseers the coming summer. Nebraska is the grandest state of them all and will do itself proud in entertaining its guests.

Red Cloud Argus: The Transmississippi Exposition is opened with elaborate ceremonies Wednesday and Nebraska is now ready to receive the world as its guests. The whole state, as well as the exposition, is in its best attire and on dress parade.

Butte Gazette: The Transmississippi Exposition at Omaha is now in full swing and every one who can arrange to go should certainly do so. It will be the sight of a lifetime and one who misses it will live to regret it. Go and see what our state can do.

Columbus Times: The great Transmississippi Exposition is now under full headway. The crowd that witnessed the inauguration ceremonies last Wednesday was something wonderful, even for the west, and unpresaged we predict success for the great enterprise.

Donkeman Chronicle: If you have not been in Omaha recently you can form no idea of the beauty and extent of the buildings and grounds of the Transmississippi and International Exposition. Printed descriptions are inadequate to fully realize its scope.

Plattsburgh News-Herald: The Omaha Exposition took in over $12,000 the first day. At the Chicago World's fair the expense account for the month of June was larger than the income. The outlook for a financial success at Omaha is very bright. The show is in every way superior to Nashville or Atlanta.

Lincoln Call: The Transmississippi Exposition opened very auspiciously. It is on a much grander scale than the visitors at the opening were expecting to see. At first it surprised the crowd which looked upon it for the first time and then astonished all with its genuine magnificence.

Wayne Herald: No one is afforded to miss the exposition at some time during the six months. The management is treating the newspaper men in a courteous manner, and all cause for complaint has about disappeared. The Herald can assure its readers that the magnificent sights at the great Transmississippi and International Exposition.

Hebron Register: The exposition is a stupendous affair which no one can afford to miss seeing. There is no better time for a teacher to visit it than the last of June. All the exhibits will have been placed in position and the weather will probably be about as pleasant as we shall have during the summer. Then let us all prepare to go up to Omaha at this time, where we can receive the impetus of a great educational gathering while we "do" the exposition.

Ord Quiz: Make arrangement with your people all over the land to meet you at the Transmississippi Exposition this summer and put in a few days seeing the sights and visiting. There is no place to spend your time better or to find better fellowship with your relatives and friends than at Omaha during the exposition. The big exhibition is a sight worth seeing and should not be missed by any one who can go. What are these big crops and high prices for if not to see the wonders to be seen there? Go to the exposition.

Oscola Record: The editor of the Record took a day off last week and visited the exposition grounds at Omaha. We were thinking that it wouldn't amount to much and came away thoroughly convinced that it is the "biggest show on earth" just at present. The buildings and grounds are simply wonderful and the sight of these alone are worth the time and expense of a visit to them. The exhibits were not in place when we were there, but when they are all in it will be second to nothing except the World's Fair at Chicago.

Wilber Democrat: No one who has visited the grounds and looked over the buildings can appreciate the grandness of this enterprise. It has been generally conceded ever since the conception of the plan that for architectural beauty of the buildings and convenient arrangement of the grounds the exposition would excel the World's fair, but for magnitude the enterprise has been generally regarded as far inferior to that great exhibition. This belief in the minds of the people will never be dispelled until they see for themselves.

Shickley Herald: The exposition is great and Nebraska can be proud of it. The glories of this western country are reflected in the grandness of the enterprise. The influence in augmenting our future progress and prosperity. When eastern people see the grand achievements of this grand western land they will be wanting to get out here and get their money into circulation, and we western folks will be glad to stay here and help them realize it. The exhibits have not all arrived yet, and it will probably be a couple of weeks before everything is in place.

Lincoln Medical Review: Those who have not seen the grounds and buildings will hardly believe that they are on such a magnificent scale as they are. While no attempt has been made to rival the World's fair of Chicago, it will surprise the visitor to find how near the Transmississippi Exposition comes in every way to the great display of 1893. But it has not been a light task to carry such an undertaking as this, and help them realize it. The exhibits have not all arrived yet, and it will probably be a couple of weeks before everything is in place.

task is accomplished. It is not going to be a local but a national affair, for thirty states have become interested in the enterprise. It will be the greatest enterprise of the kind ever held in this country, outside of the World's fair, and, in some respects, the Centennial. If it does not come it will be a grand success, and it probably will be the pleasure of visiting the World's Fair.

Kimball Observer: The great Transmississippi Exposition, a triumph of western enterprise, was opened yesterday at Omaha by President McKinley "touching the button" in Washington. The size and beauty of the grounds and buildings and the scope of the exhibits is said to exceed the general expectation of the visitors.

Haves County Times: The Transmississippi Exposition opens June 1. Every man, woman and child in Nebraska should visit the exposition some time before it closes. It will be equal to the World's fair in all respects. The Burlington, as usual, will give low rates and good service. The exposition is a Nebraska enterprise. Stand up for Nebraska.

Harrisburg News: The Omaha exposition is now in full blast. It stands every Nebraska in hand to attend, if possible, at some time during the festivities. It will be many years before a like opportunity will be presented to our people. In the line of greatness the Omaha exposition exceeds any exposition ever given in the United States with the single exception of the World's fair.

McCook Tribune: The opening of the Transmississippi Exposition at Omaha, June 1, was a most successful and imposing one, and was witnessed by an immense throng of people. The exposition surpasses even the expectations of its promoters, and the grandness of the buildings and grounds do not surpass anything of the kind ever held. Words cannot convey the beauty and magnificence of the whole scene, and must be seen to be appreciated.

Newport Republican: A number of our citizens will visit the Transmississippi Exposition this year. This is a World's fair of mammoth proportions. It will be visited and seen by the people of the entire nation. The growth of the great west, the thriving city of Omaha, the wonderful productiveness of the west with its poetical names have charms of which the public generally will avail themselves at this opportunity. Foreign countries will be represented and will show the usual and the new.

Seward Independent Democrat: It is hoped that every teacher in Seward county will visit the Transmississippi Exposition during the summer. It will be a great opportunity to learn something about the great world we live in. It is so near home that no one should miss it. But, teachers, you must bring your ideas of various things that you aid you in your work. Don't try to drink in and remember all the interesting things you see without taking notes. Keep a systematic and exhaustive memorandum of important things you see. Take notes every day, every hour, if necessary.

Beatrice Express: The Transmississippi Exposition should be patronized liberally by Nebraska people. A big affair of this kind is strange to say, frequently draws its best patronage from a distance. People will go from Maine and California to see it, while the residents of Papillion and Webster stay at home. Nebraska people will never realize the magnitude of this exposition until they visit it; they will be surprised to notice that in many departments it is the equal of the World's fair. The music alone is worth forty times the price of admittance and no man can afford to miss it.

Blair Pulse: The gates of the great Transmississippi Exposition opened Wednesday, allowing the world a sight of the wonderland within. The exercises were of the most interesting character, the parade being one long line of brilliant pomp and pageantry. The program for the grand opening of the exposition was carried out as arranged, and shortly after 12:30 President McKinley pressed the key that started the giant electric plant and the big show was formally opened. Thousands enjoyed the scene by night, which stands unsurpassed in the accomplishment of electric lighting.

Oakland Independent: The great show was formally thrown open to the public Wednesday, June 1, with all the pomp and glory usual on such occasions. The grandness was immense and the exhibits for the commencement is first-class. In many respects the enterprise has a bright future for its six months' run. It is a wonderful exposition, surpassing the World's fair in some lines and equaling it in most things. Its magnitude is a surprise to it. The students and friends and originators, Omaha, Nebraska and the west have done all in their power to make it a wonder of the age, and it remains to be seen how well the public will appreciate the untiring efforts. Everybody must go and see it. It is your show and you are invited.

Fronton Tribune: The opening of the Omaha exposition was a most auspicious one, even exceeding the expectations of the most sanguine with respect to the number of people in attendance. The day was warm. It was the most glorious the year thus far. It was the first day of "leaty June" and an ideal June day. It could not have been fashioned to better advantage to meet the requirements of the fair. The immense attendance is a token of the great interest of the masses in the success of the enterprise. It means that during the life of the exposition it will be liberally patronized. This has been the only fair. The promoters of the project have provided a superb exhibition of the products of nature and the arts that could be expected. Much could be said about the exposition, but suffice it to say that every inhabitant of Nebraska should not fail to see it. It is a chance of a lifetime. You may read about it and hear about it, but you will never know of its beauty and wonders until you gaze upon the buildings, ornamental grounds and wonderful exhibits. One great attraction to many eastern visitors, even a Nebraska visitor, is the typical old house erected by Mrs. L. Bowser of Rock county. There are four carloads of sod shipped from Rock county in the building. Mrs. Bowser expects to serve tea in the sod house on special occasions. She certainly deserves much credit for her untiring efforts through mud and rain and having it finished for the opening. It is hoped that she will be well paid for building and caring for the house until the exposition closes. The sod house is just east of the Nebraska building. In speaking of the Nebraska building, too much credit cannot be given to the commission. If you hear any one kicking on the Nebraska building for the amount it cost hang him on the spot for fear that after investigating he will still do so over the bluffs and kick himself to death.

Chester Herald: The Transmississippi Exposition at Omaha opened out with all splendor on last Wednesday, and while everything is not complete, yet there is enough to insure its success. There is no doubt but that it will be a great advertisement to Nebraska and many thousands of people will be attracted to Omaha to see this Mecca of western civilization, and every Nebraska should lend it their utmost strength toward the successful fulfillment of its mission. While there are some things about the management that we are not in accord with, perhaps some things we are opposed to, some things we do, and we are of the opinion that the management is doing something which they believe will benefit the greatest number of people. We are of the opinion that this exhibition will do more for the state than ever before. The World's fair, and a part of the Omaha exposition will be in advance of the Chicago exposition. It is a great undertaking and a masterpiece of art, and every Nebraska and every resident of this western country should see it that their eyes have beheld anything so wonderful. There are many things to be seen at this magnificent undertaking.

Rulo Reporter: There is a universal exclamation of surprise on the part of all visitors to the Transmississippi Exposition at the magnitude and beauty of the grounds and buildings. On entering the main grounds one is struck by the imposing vista of the grounds, flanked by massive structures in all kinds of architectural designs that extend far down the lagoon, which is the central attraction. Many people, even in Nebraska, imagine that the World's fair at Chicago was the first and last attempt in the world to give a fair to the people of these people. If they will only see the Transmississippi Exposition, will have to admit that it is a wonderful display, even compared with the Chicago show. The experience gained at Chicago has been utilized in Omaha and the beauty and grandness of the grounds and buildings will probably surprise all visitors to the great fair. The facilities for reaching the grounds are being looked after and the street railways are preparing to accommodate the public in a first class manner. The commodious grounds and walks are beautiful and the beautiful grounds and buildings. It was an auspicious opening of the great enterprise.

Seward Reporter, June 2: An immense crowd attended the opening of the Transmississippi Exposition yesterday. From all over Nebraska and surrounding states crowded trains brought thousands of interested spectators, all anxious to see the commencement of the great enterprise. An immense procession marched from the city to the exposition grounds, where an elaborate program was carried out. The program was made by a number of prominent men, including a message over the long distance telephone by President McKinley. At 12 o'clock the machinery was started by President McKinley, who pressed a button which transmitted the electricity from Washington to Omaha. The program was pleased with the exhibition and with the beautiful grounds and buildings. It was an auspicious opening of the great enterprise.

Norfolk Times-Tribune: The Omaha Exposition is a great show—there's no question about that. No dream of the kingly palace of ancient times can equal the present reality of the grand paved court and the harmonious temple of perfect art and science. The arrangement is such that the exhibits can be seen with less labor, and therefore less expenditure of time than has been necessary at any other exposition. The exposition grounds represent the highest development of landscape art and the most beautiful standing illustration of what artistic taste can do in beautifying all of our home surroundings. More than this, the exposition grounds are located so accessible to the main part of the city that they are in easy walking distance, and need not be a business center of the city. All of these things justify us in saying that the men who undertook to carry on the Transmississippi Exposition have succeeded beyond all expectation, and that their work is beyond criticism. There are some who would make constant complaints on all sorts of grounds. Nothing will hurt such people. The treatment received while visiting the city will be by them put down as infamous, and every interest with which they come in contact will come in for a similar rebuff. The Omaha people, however, only say "God pity them." They know nothing of the discouragements and the multitude of disadvantages under which the Transmississippi Exposition directors labored, and they are without charity or wisdom. The Transmississippi Exposition is a grand success. It is a grand success. It is a grand success.

Oscola Record: The editor of the Record took a day off last week and visited the exposition grounds at Omaha. We were thinking that it wouldn't amount to much, and came away thoroughly convinced that it is the "biggest show on earth" just at present. The buildings and grounds are simply wonderful and the sight of these alone are worth the time and expense of a visit to them. The exhibits were not in place when we were there, but when they are all in it will be second to nothing except the World's fair at Chicago. The exhibition at Omaha is proving to be a great success. It is a grand success. It is a grand success.

Lincoln Courier: The Transmississippi Exposition will open the eyes of the eastern people who have taken an annual trip across the Atlantic, but have never crossed the Mississippi to the wealth and culture of the people of this side of that great body of water. Atlantic coast people have never taken anything but what may be called a literary interest in the Transmississippi country. Remington's pictures, Mark Twain's "Roughing It," Owen Winter's magazine stories and the work of the short story writer go to the heart of the matter. Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado and the other western states in slouch hats, spurs, cowhide boots and red flannel shirts, and the women in calico wrappers and sunbonnets. Hoyt's frontier plays have added to the eastern misconception of what is western civilization has had not much show of justice. The Columbian fair placed Chicago at the terminus of the refining influences of the east. The Omaha exposition, with its beautiful buildings, of smaller, but not less worthy design than the Chicago buildings, is a grand success. It is a grand success. It is a grand success.

Wausau Enterprise-Herald: Nearly all of the transmississippi state have fine buildings there, but among them will be seen a spacious edifice that is the most magnificent attention more than any other of the state buildings on account of its size, beauty, convenience of arrangement and modernized architecture and stands as a fitting representative of a great commonwealth, namely, our great state of Nebraska. No one who has seen it can fail to be struck by the grandness of the enterprise. While we did not avail ourselves of the opportunity to visit the Chicago fair in 1893 and so can form no just comparison between the two, it is the common verdict of those who have seen both that the Transmississippi exhibition surpasses the Transmississippi fair only in size. Nearly everything that was seen at Chicago can be seen at the Omaha exposition. All who can should at one time or another before November 1 avail themselves of a visit to the exposition. It will pay you for the time and money spent in giving you an idea of the vast wealth and resources of the transmississippi country.

Oscola Independent: A visit to the exposition grounds will convince the most skeptical and penurious man on earth that the exposition is and will be a credit to the state in no small degree. The exhibits are all that could be expected. Much could be said about the exposition, but suffice it to say that every inhabitant of Nebraska should not fail to see it. It is a chance of a lifetime. You may read about it and hear about it, but you will never know of its beauty and wonders until you gaze upon the buildings, ornamental grounds and wonderful exhibits. One great attraction to many eastern visitors, even a Nebraska visitor, is the typical old house erected by Mrs. L. Bowser of Rock county. There are four carloads of sod shipped from Rock county in the building. Mrs. Bowser expects to serve tea in the sod house on special occasions. She certainly deserves much credit for her untiring efforts through mud and rain and having it finished for the opening. It is hoped that she will be well paid for building and caring for the house until the World's fair, will save up their last dollar and blow it all in to catch another sight glimpse of Paradise. See the Omaha exposition is one more chance to see it all over again, with the added zest that experience will impart. Those who went to the World's fair will not miss the exposition on any account, because they know just how entertaining it will be, and those who didn't see the World's fair won't miss it, because they have no idea just how much enjoyment can be crowded into one short week of sightseeing. The Omaha exposition has all that the World's fair had on a little smaller scale. If you want to see the world in miniature, on its very best behavior, go to Omaha and take it in. Put on a comfortable hair shirt, a plain black skirt, a large pair of shoes (the ladies I mean) and a pair of colored glasses and "sail in." It'll be a thing to dream of in the years to come whenever the dreary round becomes irksome to your tired feet, and you'll fancy sometimes that you had one little glimpse of paradise.

Wahoo Democrat: The opening of the Transmississippi Exposition in Omaha is the greatest event in the history of Nebraska. To give a detailed account of the exposition would fill this entire paper until the close in November. Every industry, enterprise or trade that Nebraska is heir to is fully represented. Not only that, but all the latest improvements in each industry are shown. If you are a tradesman and your profits are small, come and see the new and improved methods of your trade. What is true of our own state is true of all the states. In a few days you can review the entire sources of wealth all over the world. The day of opening is a grand day. In Saunders county too poor to attend the exposition at least a few days. He will return home with new ideas, new methods and above all a higher and better standard of life. His work will all have a purpose, he will discard the old and adopt the new methods of his trade and as a result he will be a happier and more prosperous man. There is one place on the grounds that every Nebraska can take a just pride in. That is the Nebraska building. It is a credit to the commissioners who cared for the interest of the people. It is the common opinion of the visiting public that it is the finest state building on the grounds. It is and should be the headquarters of every true Nebraskan while at the exposition. Here everything can be found for the comfort of the visitor. The electric lights along the lagoon after the electric lights are turned on are alone well worth the price of admittance. The Midway, with all its curiosities, wonders and oriental customs, is a perfect wonder world to the uninitiated. Both young and old among the attractions are the Marine band of Washington, D. C., Theodore Thomas' orchestra of Chicago and other companies.

Wahoo Democrat: The opening of the Transmississippi Exposition in Omaha is the greatest event in the history of Nebraska. To give a detailed account of the exposition would fill this entire paper until the close in November. Every industry, enterprise or trade that Nebraska is heir to is fully represented. Not only that, but all the latest improvements in each industry are shown. If you are a tradesman and your profits are small, come and see the new and improved methods of your trade. What is true of our own state is true of all the states. In a few days you can review the entire sources of wealth all over the world. The day of opening is a grand day. In Saunders county too poor to attend the exposition at least a few days. He will return home with new ideas, new methods and above all a higher and better standard of life. His work will all have a purpose, he will discard the old and adopt the new methods of his trade and as a result he will be a happier and more prosperous man. There is one place on the grounds that every Nebraska can take a just pride in. That is the Nebraska building. It is a credit to the commissioners who cared for the interest of the people. It is the common opinion of the visiting public that it is the finest state building on the grounds. It is and should be the headquarters of every true Nebraskan while at the exposition. Here everything can be found for the comfort of the visitor. The electric lights along the lagoon after the electric lights are turned on are alone well worth the price of admittance. The Midway, with all its curiosities, wonders and oriental customs, is a perfect wonder world to the uninitiated. Both young and old among the attractions are the Marine band of Washington, D. C., Theodore Thomas' orchestra of Chicago and other companies.

Wahoo Democrat: The opening of the Transmississippi Exposition in Omaha is the greatest event in the history of Nebraska. To give a detailed account of the exposition would fill this entire paper until the close in November. Every industry, enterprise or trade that Nebraska is heir to is fully represented. Not only that, but all the latest improvements in each industry are shown. If you are a tradesman and your profits are small, come and see the new and improved methods of your trade. What is true of our own state is true of all the states. In a few days you can review the entire sources of wealth all over the world. The day of opening is a grand day. In Saunders county too poor to attend the exposition at least a few days. He will return home with new ideas, new methods and above all a higher and better standard of life. His work will all have a purpose, he will discard the old and adopt the new methods of his trade and as a result he will be a happier and more prosperous man. There is one place on the grounds that every Nebraska can take a just pride in. That is the Nebraska building. It is a credit to the commissioners who cared for the interest of the people. It is the common opinion of the visiting public that it is the finest state building on the grounds. It is and should be the headquarters of every true Nebraskan while at the exposition. Here everything can be found for the comfort of the visitor. The electric lights along the lagoon after the electric lights are turned on are alone well worth the price of admittance. The Midway, with all its curiosities, wonders and oriental customs, is a perfect wonder world to the uninitiated. Both young and old among the attractions are the Marine band of Washington, D. C., Theodore Thomas' orchestra of Chicago and other companies.

Wahoo Democrat: The opening of the Transmississippi Exposition in Omaha is the greatest event in the history of Nebraska. To give a detailed account of the exposition would fill this entire paper until the close in November. Every industry, enterprise or trade that Nebraska is heir to is fully represented. Not only that, but all the latest improvements in each industry are shown. If you are a tradesman and your profits are small, come and see the new and improved methods of your trade. What is true of our own state is true of all the states. In a few days you can review the entire sources of wealth all over the world. The day of opening is a grand day. In Saunders county too poor to attend the exposition at least a few days. He will return home with new ideas, new methods and above all a higher and better standard of life. His work will all have a purpose, he will discard the old and adopt the new methods of his trade and as a result he will be a happier and more prosperous man. There is one place on the grounds that every Nebraska can take a just pride in. That is the Nebraska building. It is a credit to the commissioners who cared for the interest of the people. It is the common opinion of the visiting public that it is the finest state building on the grounds. It is and should be the headquarters of every true Nebraskan while at the exposition. Here everything can be found for the comfort of the visitor. The electric lights along the lagoon after the electric lights are turned on are alone well worth the price of admittance. The Midway, with all its curiosities, wonders and oriental customs, is a perfect wonder world to the uninitiated. Both young and old among the attractions are the Marine band of Washington, D. C., Theodore Thomas' orchestra of Chicago and other companies.

Wahoo Democrat: The opening of the Transmississippi Exposition in Omaha is the greatest event in the history of Nebraska. To give a detailed account of the exposition would fill this entire paper until the close in November. Every industry, enterprise or trade that Nebraska is heir to is fully represented. Not only that, but all the latest improvements in each industry are shown. If you are a tradesman and your profits are small, come and see the new and improved methods of your trade. What is true of our own state is true of all the states. In a few days you can review the entire sources of wealth all over the world. The day of opening is a grand day. In Saunders county too poor to attend the exposition at least a few days. He will return home with new ideas, new methods and above all a higher and better standard of life. His work will all have a purpose, he will discard the old and adopt the new methods of his trade and as a result he will be a happier and more prosperous man. There is one place on the grounds that every Nebraska can take a just pride in. That is the Nebraska building. It is a credit to the commissioners who cared for the interest of the people. It is the common opinion of the visiting public that it is the finest state building on the grounds. It is and should be the headquarters of every true Nebraskan while at the exposition. Here everything can be found for the comfort of the visitor. The electric lights along the lagoon after the electric lights are turned on are alone well worth the price of admittance. The Midway, with all its curiosities, wonders and oriental customs, is a perfect wonder world to the uninitiated. Both young and old among the attractions are the Marine band of Washington, D. C., Theodore Thomas' orchestra of Chicago and other companies.

Wahoo Democrat: The opening of the Transmississippi Exposition in Omaha is the greatest event in the history of Nebraska. To give a detailed account of the exposition would fill this entire paper until the close in November. Every industry, enterprise or trade that Nebraska is heir to is fully represented. Not only that, but all the latest improvements in each industry are shown. If you are a tradesman and your profits are small, come and see the new and improved methods of your trade. What is true of our own state is true of all the states. In a few days you can review the entire sources of wealth all over the world. The day of opening is a grand day. In Saunders county too poor to attend the exposition at least a few days. He will return home with new ideas, new methods and above all a higher and better standard of life. His work will all have a purpose, he will discard the old and adopt the new methods of his trade and as a result he will be a happier and more prosperous man. There is one place on the grounds that every Nebraska can take a just pride in. That is the Nebraska building. It is a credit to the commissioners who cared for the interest of the people. It is the common opinion of the visiting public that it is the finest state building on the grounds. It is and should be the headquarters of every true Nebraskan while at the exposition. Here everything can be found for the comfort of the visitor. The electric lights along the lagoon after the electric lights are turned on are alone well worth the price of admittance. The Midway, with all its curiosities, wonders and oriental customs, is a perfect wonder world to the uninitiated. Both young and old among the attractions are the Marine band of Washington, D. C., Theodore Thomas' orchestra of Chicago and other companies.

Wahoo Democrat: The opening of the Transmississippi Exposition in Omaha is the greatest event in the history of Nebraska. To give a detailed account of the exposition would fill this entire paper until the close in November. Every industry, enterprise or trade that Nebraska is heir to is fully represented. Not only that, but all the latest improvements in each industry are shown. If you are a tradesman and your profits are small, come and see the new and improved methods of your trade. What is true of our own state is true of all the states. In a few days you can review the entire sources of wealth all over the world. The day of opening is a grand day. In Saunders county too poor to attend the exposition at least a few days. He will return home with new ideas, new methods and above all a higher and better standard of life. His work will all have a purpose, he will discard the old and adopt the new methods of his trade and as a result he will be a happier and more prosperous man. There is one place on the grounds that every Nebraska can take a just pride in. That is the Nebraska building. It is a credit to the commissioners who cared for the interest of the people. It is the common opinion of the visiting public that it is the finest state building on the grounds. It is and should be the headquarters of every true Nebraskan while at the exposition. Here everything can be found for the comfort of the visitor. The electric lights along the lagoon after the electric lights are turned on are alone well worth the price of admittance. The Midway, with all its curiosities, wonders and oriental customs, is a perfect wonder world to the uninitiated. Both young and old among the attractions are the Marine band of Washington, D. C., Theodore Thomas' orchestra of Chicago and other companies.

Wahoo Democrat: The opening of the Transmississippi Exposition in Omaha is the greatest event in the history of Nebraska. To give a detailed account of the exposition would fill this entire paper until the close in November. Every industry, enterprise or trade that Nebraska is heir to is fully represented. Not only that, but all the latest improvements in each industry are shown. If you are a tradesman and your profits are small, come and see the new and improved methods of your trade. What is true of our own state is true of all the states. In a few days you can review the entire sources of wealth all over the world. The day of opening is a grand day. In Saunders county too poor to attend the exposition at least a few days. He will return home with new ideas, new methods and above all a higher and better standard of life. His work will all have a purpose, he will discard the old and adopt the new methods of his trade and as a result he will be a happier and more prosperous man. There is one place on the grounds that every Nebraska can take a just pride in. That is the Nebraska building. It is a credit to the commissioners who cared for the interest of the people. It is the common opinion of the visiting public that it is the finest state building on the grounds. It is and should be the headquarters of every true Nebraskan while at the exposition. Here everything can be found for the comfort of the visitor. The electric lights along the lagoon after the electric lights are turned on are alone well worth the price of admittance. The Midway, with all its curiosities, wonders and oriental customs, is a perfect wonder world to the uninitiated. Both young and old among the attractions are the Marine band of Washington, D. C., Theodore Thomas' orchestra of Chicago and other companies.

Wahoo Democrat: The opening of the Transmississippi Exposition in Omaha is the greatest event in the history of Nebraska. To give a detailed account of the exposition would fill this entire paper until the close in November. Every industry, enterprise or trade that Nebraska is heir to is fully represented. Not only that, but all the latest improvements in each industry are shown. If you are a tradesman and your profits are small, come and see the new and improved methods of your trade. What is true of our own state is true of all the states. In a few days you can review the entire sources of wealth all over the world. The day of opening is a grand day. In Saunders county too poor to attend the exposition at least a few days. He will return home with new ideas, new methods and above all a higher and better standard of life. His work will all have a purpose, he will discard the old and adopt the new methods of his trade and as a result he will be a happier and more prosperous man. There is one place on the grounds that every Nebraska can take a just pride in. That is the Nebraska building. It is a credit to the commissioners who cared for the interest of the people. It is the common opinion of the visiting public that it is the finest state building on the grounds. It is and should be the headquarters of every true Nebraskan while at the exposition. Here everything can be found for the comfort of the visitor. The electric lights along the lagoon after the electric lights are turned on are alone well worth the price of admittance. The Midway, with all its curiosities, wonders and oriental customs, is a perfect wonder world to the uninitiated. Both young and old among the attractions are the Marine band of Washington, D. C., Theodore Thomas' orchestra of Chicago and other companies.

Wahoo Democrat: The opening of the Transmississippi Exposition in Omaha is the greatest event in the history of Nebraska. To give a detailed account of the exposition would fill this entire paper until the close in November. Every industry, enterprise or trade that Nebraska is heir to is fully represented. Not only that, but all the latest improvements in each industry are shown. If you are a tradesman and your profits are small, come and see the new and improved methods of your trade. What is true of our own state is true of all the states. In a few days you can review the entire sources of wealth all over the world. The day of opening is a grand day. In Saunders county too poor to attend the exposition at least a few days. He will return home with new ideas, new methods and above all a higher and better standard of life. His work will all have a purpose, he will discard the old and adopt the new methods of his trade and as a result he will be a happier and more prosperous man. There is one place on the grounds that every Nebraska can take a just pride in. That is the Nebraska building. It is a credit to the commissioners who cared for the interest of the people. It is the common opinion of the visiting public that it is the finest state building on the grounds. It is and should be the headquarters of every true Nebraskan while at the exposition. Here everything can be found for the comfort of the visitor. The electric lights along the lagoon after the electric lights are turned on are alone well worth the price of admittance. The Midway, with all its curiosities, wonders and oriental customs, is a perfect wonder world to the uninitiated. Both young and old among the attractions are the Marine band of Washington, D. C., Theodore Thomas' orchestra of Chicago and other companies.

Wahoo Democrat: The opening of the Transmississippi Exposition in Omaha is the greatest event in the history of Nebraska. To give a detailed account of the exposition would fill this entire paper until the close in November. Every industry, enterprise or trade that Nebraska is heir to is fully represented. Not only that, but all the latest improvements in each industry are shown. If you are a tradesman and your profits are small, come and see the new and improved methods of your trade. What is true of our own state is true of all the states. In a few days you can review the entire sources of wealth all over the world. The day of opening is a grand day. In Saunders county too poor to attend the exposition at least a few days. He will return home with new ideas, new methods and above all a higher and better standard of life. His work will all have a purpose, he will discard the old and adopt the new methods of his trade and as a result he will be a happier and more prosperous man. There is one place on the grounds that every Nebraska can take a just pride in. That is the Nebraska building. It is a credit to the commissioners who cared for the interest of the people. It is the common opinion of the visiting public that it is the finest state building on the grounds. It is and should be the headquarters of every true Nebraskan while at the exposition. Here everything can be found for the comfort of the visitor. The electric lights along the lagoon after the electric lights are turned on are alone well worth the price of admittance. The Midway, with all its curiosities, wonders and oriental customs, is a perfect wonder world to the uninitiated. Both young and old among the attractions are the Marine band of Washington, D. C., Theodore Thomas' orchestra of Chicago and other companies.

the World's fair, will save up their last dollar and blow it all in to catch another sight glimpse of Paradise. See the Omaha exposition is one more chance to see it all over again, with the added zest that experience will impart. Those who went to the World's fair will not miss the exposition on any account, because they know just how entertaining it will be, and those who didn't see the World's fair won't miss it, because they have no idea just how much enjoyment can be crowded into one short week of sightseeing. The Omaha exposition has all that the World's fair had on a little smaller scale. If you want to see the world in miniature, on its very best behavior, go to Omaha and take it in. Put on a comfortable hair shirt, a plain black skirt, a large pair of shoes (the ladies I mean) and a pair of colored glasses and "sail in." It'll be a thing to dream of in the years to come whenever the dreary round becomes irksome to your tired feet, and you'll fancy sometimes that you had one little glimpse of paradise.

Wahoo Democrat: The opening of the Transmississippi Exposition in Omaha is the greatest event in the history of Nebraska. To give a detailed account of the exposition would fill this entire paper until the close in November. Every industry, enterprise or trade that Nebraska is heir to is fully represented. Not only that, but all the latest improvements in each industry are shown. If you are a tradesman and your profits are small, come and see the new and improved methods of your trade. What is true of our own state is true of all the states. In a few days you can review the entire sources of wealth all over the world. The day of opening is a grand day. In Saunders county too poor to attend the exposition at least a few days. He will return home with new ideas, new methods and above all a higher and better standard of life. His work will all have a purpose, he will discard the old and adopt the new methods of his trade and as a result he will be a happier and more prosperous man. There is one place on the grounds that every Nebraska can take a just pride in. That is the Nebraska building. It is a credit to the commissioners who cared for the interest of the people. It is the common opinion of the visiting public that it is the finest state building on the grounds. It is and should be the headquarters of every true Nebraskan while at the exposition. Here everything can be found for the comfort of the visitor. The electric lights along the lagoon after the electric lights are turned on are alone well worth the price of admittance. The Midway, with all its curiosities, wonders and oriental customs, is a perfect wonder world to the uninitiated. Both young and old among the attractions are the Marine band of Washington, D. C., Theodore Thomas' orchestra of Chicago and other companies.

Wahoo Democrat: The opening of the Transmississippi Exposition in Omaha is the greatest event in the history of Nebraska. To give a detailed account of the exposition would fill this entire paper until the close in November. Every industry, enterprise or trade that Nebraska is heir to is fully represented. Not only that, but all the latest improvements in each industry are shown. If you are a tradesman and your profits are small, come and see the new and improved methods of your trade. What is true of our own state is true of all the states. In a few days you can review the entire sources of wealth all over the world. The day of opening is a grand day. In Saunders county too poor to attend the exposition at least a few days. He will return home with new ideas, new methods and above all a higher and better standard of life. His work will all have a purpose, he will discard the old and adopt the new methods of his trade and as a result he will be a happier and more prosperous man. There is one place on the grounds that every Nebraska can take a just pride in. That is the Nebraska building. It is a credit to the commissioners who cared for the interest of the people. It is the common opinion of the visiting public that it is the finest state building on the grounds. It is and should be the headquarters of every true Nebraskan while at the exposition. Here everything can be found for the comfort of the visitor. The electric lights along the lagoon after the electric lights are turned on are alone well worth the price of admittance. The Midway, with all its curiosities, wonders and oriental customs, is a perfect wonder world to the uninitiated. Both young and old among the attractions are the Marine band of Washington, D. C., Theodore Thomas' orchestra of Chicago and other companies.

Wahoo Democrat: The opening of the Transmississippi Exposition in Omaha is the greatest event in the history of Nebraska. To give a detailed account of the exposition would fill this entire paper until the close in November. Every industry, enterprise or trade that Nebraska is heir to is fully represented. Not only that, but all the latest improvements in each industry are shown. If you are a tradesman and your profits are small, come and see the new and improved methods of your trade. What is true of our own state is true of all the states. In a few days you can review the entire sources of wealth all over the world. The day of opening is a grand day. In Saunders county too poor to attend the exposition at least a few days. He will return home with new ideas, new methods and above all a higher and better standard of life. His work will all have a purpose, he will discard the old and adopt the new methods of his trade and as a result he will be a happier and more prosperous man. There is one place on the grounds that every Nebraska can take a just pride in. That is the Nebraska building. It is a credit to the commissioners who cared for the interest of the people. It is the common opinion of the visiting public that it is the finest state building on the grounds. It is and should be the headquarters of every true Nebraskan while at the exposition. Here everything can be found for the comfort of the visitor. The electric lights along the lagoon after the electric lights are turned on are alone well worth the price of admittance. The Midway, with all its curiosities, wonders and oriental customs, is a perfect wonder world to the uninitiated. Both young and old among the attractions are the Marine band of Washington, D. C., Theodore Thomas' orchestra of Chicago and other companies.

Wahoo Democrat: The opening of the Transmississippi Exposition in Omaha is the greatest event in the history of Nebraska. To give a detailed account of the exposition would fill this entire paper until the close in November. Every industry, enterprise or trade that Nebraska is heir to is fully represented. Not only that, but